Family Trees: Background Information

Ivy Kathleen Mona Elizabeth Carson (Peter's Mother) family tree

Ivy Kathleen Mona Elizabeth CARSON born 1895 and family

Dear Frank, First, some housekeeping. I have, in essence, cracked the problem but as you will see there are gaps which probably can only be filled by visits to Derby and London. What I have done with the gaps is put in what I would call 'helpful hints' (you may think otherwise!!!) and if you chose to have the work done, you could probably get a good history of your grand mother and a very good good history of your maternal great grand parents.

One matter, about which I can do nothing, is the fact that all the information attached has come from two web sites on the internet, both of which demand subscriptions. The subscriptions are not substantial and you can get monthly/half yearly subs and you would have to pay Ancestry to see the pictures of your grandfather in uniform. The bad news is that some of these search engines have blind spots and Ancestry does not appear to like Carson: I have therefore done a lot of searches on 'Find My Past'. Alan could get these on his computer but if you have friends in Towcester who are subscribers to Ancestry (and they are willing) they could get these photos and details up on their computer because it would not cost them any extra money. There are a number of people doing Carson family history who could give you further details.

As regards the attached documents. I have marked them A1, A2 etc to help with looking at them. They are mainly downloads of census returns and although there are many more, I have only done those which show the family links.

IVY KATHLEEN CARSON, your mother, when born, had no father recorded on the certificate (A1) and the chances of tracing him are remote. The only practicable way is to look for a paternity order issued by magistrates/assize judges in Derby or the Marylebone area of London as she was working in London in 1891 (see Annie Carson detail). When she went to live with her uncle and aunt in London is not known and could have been immediately after her birth or on the death of her mother. She is shown living with her aunt and uncle in 1901 and 1911(A2 and A3) and as she is looking after the aunt/uncles children may well have stayed with them until marriage (A4). What address is shown or your mother's wedding certificate?

As to why she went to the Leartharts' is shown in detail later but she is accurately described as a niece as her older sister married Alfred Learthart.

ANNN JANE CARSON aka ANNIE CARSON, your grand mother, was born in the Hatfield, Herts, area in 1869 (see B1) while your great grand father was a prison warder. She lives with the family at various locations until at least 1881 (C3) and by 1891 she is working in the Marylebone, London, workhouse (B2) and her parents have moved to Derby (C1 and C3). There is no clue as to why she decided to get employment in a workhouse – destitution doubtful but possibly a previous child? We do not know when she moved to Derby but the Derby/Marylebone Workhouse records may solve this one.

Her death is also a bit of a problem. In Derbyshire, Carson is a very common name especially when coupled with Ann/Annie. If we assume (although there is no evidence, apart from the fact that she cannot be traced in the 1901 and 1911 census) that she died between November 1895 and April 1901, only one Ann/Annie Carson is found to die in Derbyshire in this period. This person is Annie Carson who dies in 1898 in Derby (B3) at the alleged age of 40, about 10 years too old. I would not worry about this as marriage and death registers are notoriously inaccurate about age: however, the only way to resolve the matter is to buy the certificate or visit the register office in Derby to see the original entry. If this is not the right Annie Carson, we have a problem as she 'disappears': she may die at a later date but there are far too many Ann Carsons to check but marriage and/or emigration should not be ruled out. Possibly one of those doing Carson family history might know.

HANCE CARSON, your great grandfather is a really interesting man and you have the chance to follow his army career in some detail as the records are in the National Archives and some are on line. His army service also enables us to accurately nail down his date and place of birth in Ireland. C6 shows that he was born in Armagh City in 1829 probably to a protestant family, although his full service record should resolve that. Knowing particularly where he was born will make further family research a lot easier.

C5, his discharge report, shows that he left the army as a colour sergeant after 21 years service and was discharged on 9th November 1867 in Manchester. It notes his service in Corfu, The Crimea, Malta, Aden, the East Indies and New Zealand: see also C8. If you want to have his service record in full, you can use the references shown on C7:some documents are on the internet but they do not, generally, download well.

I cannot find Hance in 1871 so he may have returned to Ireland for a few years. C4 shows him in 1881 as a prison warder in Huntingdon and C1 and C3 as a warder in Derby. He dies in Leicester in 1897 (C2) and is probably living there to be near his son Cornelius (see later).

It should be fairly easy to document all of Hance's children but I have only done the sons. There may be other children born abroad who died abroad: C8 shows the birth of his son Hance J in Corfu in 1854- no trace of him in the UK.

ISABELLA CARSON (daughter of Hance and thus sister to Annie) is the link to the Learthart family. In 1881 she is living and working in London (D1) and marries Alfred Learthart in 1888 (D2).

CORNELIUS CARSON is the son who does well. He is shown as a constable in the Leicestershire Constabulary in 1891 (E1), a sergeant in 1901 and inspector in 1911 (E2). Probably why Hance went to live in Leicester.

JAMES CARSON is another son who seems to spend most of his life in Derby (F1).
